Dear Christopher Lund,

This letter is in regard to our recent email conversation. I am working with another group member to create a website on Cuban-Haitian Refugees, which is part of my coursework for the class entitled "Introduction to Library & Information Science" (LIS 204) at St. John's University.

I would like your permission to use the following photographs from your website titled "The Role of the Legislative Process in Protecting Rights to Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness."

- (1) Front of CMS Building, New York City.
- (2) The Endres Collection, as housed in the basement of CMS.

Your permission extends to any future versions of my group website. Entrusting me with these photographs will in no way result in the unauthorized reproduction of material by either myself or others. By signing this letter, you also confirm that you hold the copyright to the images listed above.

If you agree to authorize my request, I would ask that you please sign this letter below and send a digital copy to me using the email address provided.

Thank you for your time in reviewing my copyright permission letter. I look forward to hearing from you. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact me at danielle.manri13@stjohns.edu.

Sincerely,

Danielle Manri
